

TeachingEnglish lessons

Peacemakers and peace- breakers

July 2020

Peacemakers and peace-breakers

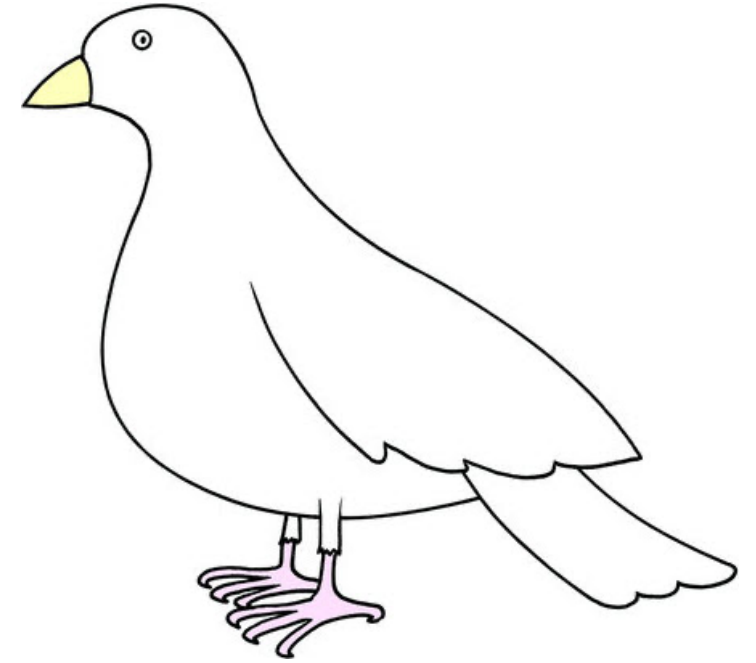

Listen to the words.

They all have the same meaning.

What do you think is the English word?

Peacemakers and peace-breakers

 What things help us work together peacefully in the classroom?

Peacemakers and peace-breakers

I think the most important is ...

Yes, I think you're right.

Hmm, I'm not sure. I think ... is more important.

Why?

Because ...

OK, maybe you're right.

I think the next one is ...

Peacemakers and peace-breakers

🗨️ Your classmate uses your favourite eraser without asking!

Now it's dirty and you are very unhappy about it.

What is a positive way to react?

What is a not-so-positive way to react?

How can you both solve this peacefully?

Peacemakers and peace-breakers

Hey! That's my eraser!

IT'S MINE! GIVE IT BACK!
YOU'RE MAKING IT DIRTY!

NO! GIVE IT BACK NOW!

Yeah, I need it.

In a minute.

I SAID, IN A MINUTE! IT'S JUST AN ERASER!

Peacemakers and peace-breakers

Is that my eraser?

But now it's dirty. That's my favourite eraser 😞

OK, because I really like that one.

Yes, is that OK? I need to erase something.

Oh, I'm sorry, I didn't know that. Let's try to clean it.

I'm really sorry. Next time I will ask you first, I promise!

Peacemakers and peace-breakers

-  You are playing a game in class and you think your classmate is cheating.
-  Your brother or sister doesn't let you change the channel to watch your favourite TV programme.
-  You told your best friend a secret and they told someone else.

TeachingEnglish lessons

Peacemakers and peace- breakers

Thanks for coming!